

PROMOTER T&Cs:

1. General Sale ticket sales are limited to 4 per household, per show. Only tickets purchased through approved agents are valid. The venue reserves the right to refuse admission.
2. Ticket resale is permitted at no more than the price you paid (face value + booking fees). Please only use Ticketmaster's or the artist's official resale partner – please see the artist's website for more details. Selling tickets through unauthorised resale platforms will breach these T&Cs and those tickets may be cancelled.
3. A ticket is a personal, revocable license and, at all times, remains the property of the Promoters. Tickets must be surrendered to the Promoters upon request.
4. This ticket is sold on behalf of the Promoters to the Consumer. Business or traders are specifically prohibited from purchasing for this event. Any who do so will have their tickets cancelled.
5. All ticket sales data will be manually forensically examined and any use of bots, multiple identities, false identities, or other fraudulent means of acquiring tickets may be reported to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) in North America, Europe Cybercrime in Europe and the National Crime Agency in the UK.
6. Regardless of the method of delivery you select at purchase, we reserve the right to change ticket delivery to box office collection with Government issued photographic ID in the name of the person who booked the tickets.
7. Presale tickets are limited to a maximum of 4 per code. Across the presale and on sale, a maximum of four tickets per household, per show in total can be booked.